The Servant Queen

'I declare before you all that my whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service and the service of our great Commonwealth to which we belong.'

So said the young Princess Elizabeth, in 1947 on her 21st Birthday, to her future people in her first radio broadcast. The Princess was offering herself for a life of service on the altar of her love for nation and commonwealth- and for God who had laid this responsibility upon her.

Monarchy has ancient roots from the time that Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anointed Solomon as King and all the people cried: 'God save the King'. Monarchy, with its access to power and wealth, can corrupt and be abused. I expect we all have in our heads the 'good' and 'bad' kings of England from history lessons. The Book of Chronicles in the bible is only too clear which are the bad kings of Israel. Those who love power seem to be the ones who are led astray and lead the people poorly.

However, monarchy has the potential for much good, too. It says something important to us about leadership and how, according to Christ, it should be exercised. At her Coronation, the Queen was presented with the Orb of State and told: 'Receive this Orb set under the Cross and remember that the whole world is subject to the power and empire of Christ our redeemer.' The Cross speaks of Christ's self-sacrifice. It reminds us that he emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, humbled himself and became obedient to the point of death.

Authority can be difficult - not least for those who have greatness thrust upon them. Not only Kings and rulers but others – leaders of council, politicians, judges, mayors, portreeves and bishops. We quickly begin to discover that authority depends less on the handle other people choose to give us; more and more on what it is we are ourselves. Real authority does not come simply by putting on a crown, a wig, a chain or a mitre. In the past, some bad characters have sat on royal thrones, episcopal chairs and seats of justice - characters shielded by the outward trappings of office. In the end, it is not the office that counts but the men or women who hold the office. There is no substitute for personal integrity.

Church News & Events

We count ourselves fortunate that this could not be better illustrated than in her Majesty the Queen; who has made Jesus Christ her Lord and Saviour, lived her life following this Servant King and been an example for us all. In this letter, I would like her Majesty to have the last word to you with some of her own from a recent Christmas Day broadcast:

'In the last verse of the beautiful carol, O, Little Town of Bethlehem, there's a prayer:

O Holy Child of Bethlehem

descend to us we pray.

Cast out our sin and enter in

Be born in us today.

It is my prayer that we might all find room in our lives for the message of the angels and for the love of God through Jesus Christ our Lord.'

Maureen Smeaton

The Parochial Church Council’s annual meeting was held on the 8th May and afterwards we joined together to celebrate Maureen Smeaton’s 99th birthday. Although her actual birthday was the following day, it was a lovely opportunity to thank Maureen for her considerable contribution to the life of St. Mary’s over the years she has lived in Holne.

It was wonderful that Maureen had been able and willing to play the piano during the evening service. Maureen chose “Lead us Heavenly Father lead us” as one of the hymns for the service, it being a hymn that she and Peter had at their wedding.

Maureen is a great inspiration to everyone that knows her, and we look forward to next May to celebrate the “big” birthday with her.

Church Renovation

At last! Permission has been granted to carry out the much-needed work in the church. The building will be closed from 27th June until the end of October because of the amount of scaffolding needed inside to repair and redecorate the walls and ceiling.

As previously reported, we will also be replacing the radiators and the lighting system as well as installing a sound system, projector, screen and camera for streaming services and village events. Other work will be undertaken to conserve the reredos behind the altar and the side panel which had been hidden behind the oak panelling. Hopefully, the recently discovered wall paintings can also be exposed and conserved.

Closure of the building does not mean that we will be unable to continue to worship together in Holne. The PCC has lots of ideas about places to hold services and

Church Services - see Page 22 for details

Technology 1: Churches have come a long way online. With sites like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and YouTube, churches can now arguably be just as effective online as they are in person. In fact, many churches use online outreach more effectively than they do in person.

The social media 'arsenal' has grown since podcasts, blogs, and vlogs were introduced, and now churches are finding more and more creative ways to use social media to build their church community and spread the gospel.

Churches with the most success online are the most creative and the ones that are willing to experiment.

Have you an interest in digital communication? Would you like to contribute to the communications strategy in our Mission Community? Please contact me or Cassie at the Parish Office.

Technology 2: We are getting a number of queries Diocesan wide regarding the 'Sum-up' contactless donation facility at St Raphael's Chapel. Revenue and costs being two specific questions.

I can only give some 'general' points.

In the last six months there have been 320 transactions on our Sum-up contactless machine at St. Raphael's.

Approximately 60% were by debit card and 40% by credit card – comprising American Express; Mastercard; and Visa. The gross revenue in the last six months has been £1,686.75.

We can provide details of pay-outs to us in this period, but roughly speaking if I just give an example, you will get the concept:

In one average month in January Sum-up paid us £136.42 and we paid them £1.58 in fees. (In March it was over £900 donated into Sum-up but that's snowdrop time so not exactly an average month!)

Please do contact us for further information – or a 'site' visit to St. Raphaels is obviously recommended – as long as you bring a credit or debit card!

Feathered Heroes

During the Second World War espionage went hand in hand with conflict. Carrier pigeons were crucial weapons in the spy's armoury. Few pigeons distinguished themselves more than "Mary of Exeter".

She was owned and bred by bootmaker Cecil 'Charlie' Brewer who was a member of the National Pigeon Service, a little-known organisation working during the 1940's. The National Pigeon Service was a volunteer civilian organisation formed in Britain in 1938 at the request of the British Government. During the conflict

The Grave of a Hero

Mary completed four successful missions from France, surviving attacks from enemy hawks which were trained to attack carrier pigeons. Hawks were not the only method used to try and stop the birds; snipers would shoot them as well. Besides wounds from hawk attacks Mary also suffered damage from shot gun pellets and spent periods in Exeter being nursed back to full health.

On her final mission Mary made it home with a vital message but had suffered shrapnel wounds which were so bad she had to be retired from Service.

Mary was among twenty-one pigeons awarded the Dickin Medal, known as the animal's VC, during the war.

More about the history of the Dickin Medal in a future article.

The LINK – our future is at risk.

Behind the Scenes....

How do you think this “Link” arrived through your letterbox, or onto your computer? Maybe you’ve wondered what happens when you’ve got something you want to promote, and you decide to “put it in the Link”?

Read on .....

Every month a hard-working team, behind the scenes, receives content, chases contributors, negotiates with advertisers, arranges professional printing, keeps the accounts, distributes over 700 printed copies, places the Link as a PDF on websites, and then takes a couple of weeks off before the next edition!

The hole in our team....

Around 25 volunteers are involved in all this, BUT we have a hole in the middle of our team! We must urgently recruit two or three new people to “publish” the Link – using our laptop and its publishing software to turn all the contributions into the layout that you are now reading. Each month it takes one person about two working days (spread over a week) to do this work.

Unless we can recruit two or three such people (alternating through the months), the “Link” will have to cease publication ....

Could it be you?

So, if you are community minded, and are comfortable using Microsoft Office, you could be one of the people we are looking for! If appropriate, we can pay a modest honorarium for this publishing work. Full training is provided, and also a Windows laptop with all the relevant software for you to use.

Please contact us if you might be able to take this on, or if you know someone who might like to do this:

link@moorlandteam.org.uk or phone Geoffrey Fenton on 01364 621334

Thank you for reading this, and please talk about it in the pub, the shop, the school, the coffee morning, or wherever you chat with others!

PHYL'S FOLLIES POSTBRIDGE PANTOMIME GROUP

We successfully put on a production of Cinderella in January/February despite Covid's best efforts to stop us. In the second week Cinderella may have been a bit older than expected and a couple of other members of the cast may have been using their script on stage but the show did go on. This pantomime was made all the more special because Frank Martin (Phyl's Follies) and Lloyd Mortimore (Moorland Merry-makers) got together as the Ugly Sisters!

At our AGM we were delighted to find that we had made some money so donations were agreed for £200 each to NSPCC, Yelverton, Exeter Hospicare, St. Gabriel's Church, Postbridge and The Red Cross for humanitarian aid in Ukraine. £100 each was donated to the Basics Emergency Volunteer Doctors and the Parish Link.

A big thank you to all those who attended or were involved in any way (especially those who stepped in to perform at the last minute) as you have enabled us to contribute to these good causes. Plans are already afoot for the 2023 pantomime which will be our 50th anniversary year. Watch this space!!

News from the East Shallowford Trust

Phew! We are all heaving an almighty and massive sigh of relief. Done! At least the Opening Event, for which we can just say a huge, massive THANK YOU to everyone who saw the pending date and leapt into action, painting, sweeping, cleaning, drilling, sawing, moving, heaving, baking..... so the list goes on. No one fell over on the cobbles, no naughty pig sneaked out, the cockerels did not fly at anyone and the lambs charmingly and gently nibbled royal fingers!

More to the point – Will, John, David, Anthony, Serena and Ellie are all still alive! It may be only, 'just about' alive, but the fantastic team effort?? Amazing! The willingness and kindness of people to step in and come back to finish a job when they were already tired, or push themselves to mow the extra bit of lawn and tidy the walls so the flowers could bloom..... Amazing!

Our list of helpers – well, you know who you are and dare I say it again..... such a little word is THANK YOU..... but it comes loaded with gratitude and infinite appreciation.

Thank you also to the teachers and parents of the schools who brought their children for the morning. We hope that they enjoyed themselves – certainly the entire day would have fallen completely without our wonderful young people showing their skills and enthusiasm on-site!

It all confirms that amazing human spirit. When deadlines are closing in people find an inner resource they didn't know they had. When people see someone struggling, they breathe in and pick up the load. By comparison to what is happening in the Ukraine, Syria, Afghanistan, our troubles are minor. But they are our local troubles – we own them.

I think of the huge rocks that have been moved to build the barns and the farm house and wonder that they were heaved, pulled and pushed by men (probably – but who knows) with wooden poles and sheer animal and human strength and determination. Did they lose any fingers or toes, break any bones? How long did it take to select the exact stone to place in the cross passage or make the fireplace, which is probably a modern construction at a mere 1300 or 1400? How did they heave and haul these huge boulders? Our modern woes are so trivial – the colour and make of our shoes, the trendiest make of trousers with the correct slit cut across the leg? Really?? This is modernity!?

The modern, ultimate climax of all man's achievements? Not whether we have clean water, sufficient quality food, warm shelter (or have walked on the moon). At least most people in the UK have their basic needs met. Going back to Maslow's hierarchy of needs, did our Open Day and the effort really matter? Oh yes it did. Integral into all human psyche is the need for recognition, the need to feel we have purpose and value. If we do anything at the farm at all that justifies our existence it is this..... giving purpose, direction, new opportunities, guiding respect and showing love. These are all human needs whether you have food, water and shelter or not.

Queen's Platinum Jubilee Celebrations

There will be a village celebration from mid-day on Sunday 5th June at Princetown Community Centre, and on the green space behind it. The local Women's Institute will be serving teas and coffees and residents are invited to bring along a plate of food to share. Entertainment will include the Cadets, Princetown Fun Choir, a Dog Show, the Fire Service and more to be arranged. Souvenir mugs will be presented on the day to all children and young people under the age of 18 who live in the Parish.

Extracts from the meetings on 26th April 2022 and 3rd May 2022

Guest Speaker – Sandra Dodd Pastoral Worker Tavistock Methodist Circuit

Sandra attended the meeting to share with Council her work in the local area. She has been in post since September 2021 providing pastoral care to people living in Bere Alston, Yelverton, Princetown and Peter Tavy, primarily. In April she planned to start up a Women's group with the aim of supporting Ukrainian refugees, or those taking them in. If you or anyone you know could benefit from her work, contact Sandra by e-mail sandra@tmc.me.uk or call 01822 810 343.

Planning Applications

The Council resolved to support an application (103/22), for installation of small solar photovoltaic ground mount on the land adjacent to the Forest Inn, Hexworthy.

Road works and Diversion

Council discussed the issue caused by recent road works on the Dartmeet – Ashburton road, where a lengthy official diversion took motorists via Moretonhampstead. The 'road closure' signage did not specify where the actual closure was, but it transpired that it was possible for small vehicles/cars and drivers with local knowledge to use the Holne/Hexworthy road, thus avoiding the lengthy and unnecessary diversion. Council agreed to contact Devon County Council Highways to request improved notification of road closures, with more detail on signage relating to road closures, particularly on the main arterial routes across the moor.

Parking Issues

Councillors have been made aware of the difficulty some Princetown residents are currently experiencing with visitors parking on residential streets, often for long periods, rather than using the public car parks. Council agreed to contact local land owners to see if disused parking around the Old Prison Officers Club could be used for visitor parking, and sign posted as such.

hither to and fro to gain the best angle, light and catch the perfect frame. If anyone is not on our mailing list and would like the link to the photos, please just drop me a line.

We have much yet to achieve. We now have more covered warm and dry barn space for the winter and for outdoor work when it is raining. We need to hone our programme and reach out to even more groups so that we can inspire more young people who are jailed within their concrete jungles. The lambs are leaping, bleating and competing with the cuckoo and chaff chaff, spring is bursting forth and at long last layers of clothes are off and we can smile again under the warming sun! The next yearly cycle has begun..... hay and silage soon!.

Thank you everyone for helping out and visiting.

Hope and the future

“Who touched me/my clothes?” (Mark 5:30). Jesus, surrounded by crowds pressing for his attention, feels a tug on his cloak and utters these words. As he does, he releases a woman who has long suffered, to tell her story, and to find hope.

Let us also pause to ask, “who touched me?”. It may be the plight of millions of displaced Ukrainian people fleeing war, many being mothers and children or young men defending their homeland; lives tragically lost; the world’s nations on the geological brink. Or refugees and victims of ongoing conflict in the Middle East, Yemen, Syria, Afghanistan, and many other countries around the world. Oppressed people, disenfranchised people, sick, lonely, and rejected people. Young people cast adrift by life. Or our very planet itself, tugging at our hearts to be cared for, helped, and loved.

It is a time when dreams can die.

And yet there is something in the resurrection love of Christ that compels us to hope – and to keep on praying, living, and dreaming of a better way.

As we prayerfully consider “who touched me?”, may it be the start of a new dream, and a new season of hope for us all.

Tony Parker

The Platinum Jubilee is finally here, and the Link is packed with information and reflections on this unique event – just look at the diary on Page 23! It's a wonderful occasion for all our communities to meet up and celebrate. And it's through the pages of the Link that you will know where to be and what to attend.

Imagine, if you will, there being no Link magazine, no publication that allows you to plan your social life with such ease. Nowhere to advertise all that is going on in our community. Nowhere to read the write-ups of special events? Maybe you were unaware of our own local "Royal Event" last month, at Shallowford Farm, until you turned to page 37?

Well, there is a real danger that, rather than imagining there is no Link Magazine, there might really be no Link Magazine. So, before you read anything else, please turn now to page 35 and read how precarious our position is, and then see if you can come up with a suggestion for how we find new "Publishers". Maybe you could be one of the team?

And only then you can settle down with your diary and work through the Link, plotting your Platinum celebration plans – weighing up the relative attractions of watching fireworks, joining a picnic, enjoying a flower festival, going to a whist drive, celebrating in church. It's not possible to go to everything – so enjoy choosing your favourites.

God Save the Queen!

With best wishes from the Link Team
